Q: How to make CAPTCHA for signup form in Laravel 5.5 I am trying to make a signup form for my app but I can't find how to make a CAPTCHA to protect against spamming in my app. I've tried this, but it didn't work. I did echo

showForm(); public function getInput(array $data) {
    $data['plainText'] = Input::get('plainText'); $data['results'] = [ 'success' => count($data['plainText']) == 20, 'label' =>
    'Incorrect.', 'model' => $data ]; return $data; } public function showForm() { dd(Input::all()); return view('signup.form'); } A: I have had great success using Laravel Spark to make forms. With Spark you can load the CAPTCHA library into the page, then wrap it around your form. You can also supply the image to be used and the number of attempts per image, preventing a user from guessing answers. You'll need to specify the image library used in your Spark container, I believe I used
